Norwich.

He expressed the belief that what had transpired in the past year of an unfortunate character in business conditions might yet be found to result to the ultimate good. Among the efforts in which the Board of Trade had been concerned for the city's good he menconcerned for in which the Board of Trade had been concerned for the city's good he mentioned how the Board of Trade had succeeded in inducing the National Roque association to make this their permanent home by the help that the board had given them in fixing the board had given them in fixing the rapid courts and in the annexation of the statutory that the same amount of taxes to be raised as was levied on the 1912 list, with a rate for town and city combined of probably less than 16 mills.

He expressed his thanks to the offi-cers and committees of the Board of Trade and expressed the hope that there would be a time when there would be but one civic organization in the city with income enough to hire a man to devote his entire time to such work for the city as might be attempted. The president also advised that the question of suitable tenements ought to engage the attention of the citizens and suggested that a holding company might be formed to build on a number of house lots held by the Norwich Industrial Improvement corporation.

State Getting Into Debt. The finances of the state of Connecticut, he said, were in a bad shape. In 1907, when there had been a sur-plus in the state treasury, there has considered. The committee made the been a constant shift the other way suggestion that during the following until now there is a ten million dollar year measures be taken to provide debt. The legislators seem to have considered. The committee made the suggestion that during the following year measures be taken to provide better waiting facilities for the street car passengers at the Franklin square transfer point, and that steps be taken for the installation of proper sanitary drinking fountains in the vicinity of Franklin square and Thames square. As a clean pavemented street is not only more sanitary but also more at-

The trouble in Connecticut is that there is no uniformity, but great va-riety in the interpretation of the stat-ute. Mr. Corbin advised that the spring was the best time to have the lists come in, with the tax to be due

No Uniformity.

Facts About Norwich. Making a local application of taxaon conditions, he said that since 190 the town of Norwich has increased in population nearly 18 per cent. Durin the same period the grand list has increased 27.18 per cent. The assessed valuations of all the towns in New London county since 1900 have increased 60.6 per cent., and during the same period in the state at large 78.0 per The assessed valuation per capita of is $12.56. It is $16.52 in New London and $10.17 in Windham.

Your tax rate on the list of 1912, he said, which I understand was 10.3-4 mills for the city and 11.3-4 for the town, or a total of 22.1-2 mills, is one of the very largest in the state. In the same year there was a 16 mill rate in New London and a 10 mill rate in New London and a 10 mill rate in Windham.

Your total uncollected taxes for the town and city, as of April 1, 1913, was about $29,000. The percentage of collections on the list of 1911 was about $40.00 mills of 1911 was about $40.0 92.8 per cent, for the state at large.

Benefit in Change. There are very few towns in the state whose statistics would indicate so conclusively the desirability of placsmall taxpayer, and of all the larger taxpayers who are now bearing their share of the public burden or are willing to do so.

Recommendations. Mr. Corbin recommended several things as desirable—a revaluation evfoot values by a map in the assessors' office; a card list; more detailed publicity in valuation figures, and more independent work by the assessors.

Mr. Corbin was applauded and given

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Blaze at Home of Salvation Army Captain and in Alice Building An-

Two fires in about half an hour called out the fire department on Tuesday evening, the first at 10.10 at No. 61 Olis street, the home of Captain and Mrs. E. W. Wilber of the Salvation Army, and the second at 10.40 in the rooms in the Alice building annex on Main street, occupied by the Misses Elisa and Alma Bauck in the manufacture of aprons and mesh bags.

The Wilber family were all away from home and the fire was discovered by W. L. Farrar and Dirk Branderhurst, who boards with Mr. Farrar in the house adjoining the Wilber dwelling which is in the so-called Kelly dwelling which is in the so-called Kelly block on Otis street. They smelled smoke and upon investigating saw the fire in the cellar of the Wilber hous Mr. Farrar broke in a back door an at first made a search through the bedrooms thinking some of the small children in the Wilber family might be asleep there but they were all out. Then with pails of water he and Mr. Branderhurst tried to put out the fire while a telephone alarm was sent in and a bell alarm was sent from in and a beil alarm was sent from box 31 at the head of the Little Plain. When the department men arrived they found that the fire had started from a fireplace and had burned through the floor into the cellar. A portion of the floor had to be channed. portion of the floor had to be chopped out to get at it and a large quantity of chemical was used before all the fire was out. NORWICH-WORCESTER CANAL. Eastern Connectiout Business Men Pass Resolutions in Meeting at Dan-

The eastern Connecticut development committee of the Business Men's as-sociations met at Danhelson Tuesday afternoon at 2.50 o'clock, with Joseph T. Cruttenden in the chair and C. W. Pearson acting as clerk. It was voted that the eastern Connecticut com-mittee recommend that the three asso-ciations in Windham county take up the matter of forming a Windham county farm bureau. It was also voted that the committee as a joint commit-tee representing the business men of eastern Connecticut, endorse the action of the state board of education in their effort to establish a thorough and effi-cient trade school for this section of Driscoll, who has apartments in the Alice building, and with J. A. Cunning-ham he broke in a door and turned on a stream of water from a hose attached to a standpipe in the Alice building.
